

WHAT THE

Calling cards were contrived for salesmen, tho they seem to be quite popular with square dance callers these days, too. We were rather amused to find tacked on the wall of a folk dance teacher's "study" such a calling card with the following "cues". It's for the dance CHOUMANDINKA (French spelling for Sumandinka, a kolo). Fortunately, that particular recording is no longer available. Anyway, here's how it's supposed to go:

1. Chorus hop.
2. Seljancica Hop.
3. Three run, polka, jump, twist R, jump, twist R.
4. R together R swing, L swing R together, R together.
5. Repeat starting left.
6. Repeat to R and then L.
7. Jump R, Swing L, Jump L, Swing R and repeat.
8. Malo Kolo.
9. Chorus hop.
10. Single Seljancica.
11. Kozacko Kolo.
12. Chorus Hop R and L.
13. Malo Kolo.
14. Chorus Hop.
15. Three run, polka, jump, twist L and R.
16. Final Seljancica.

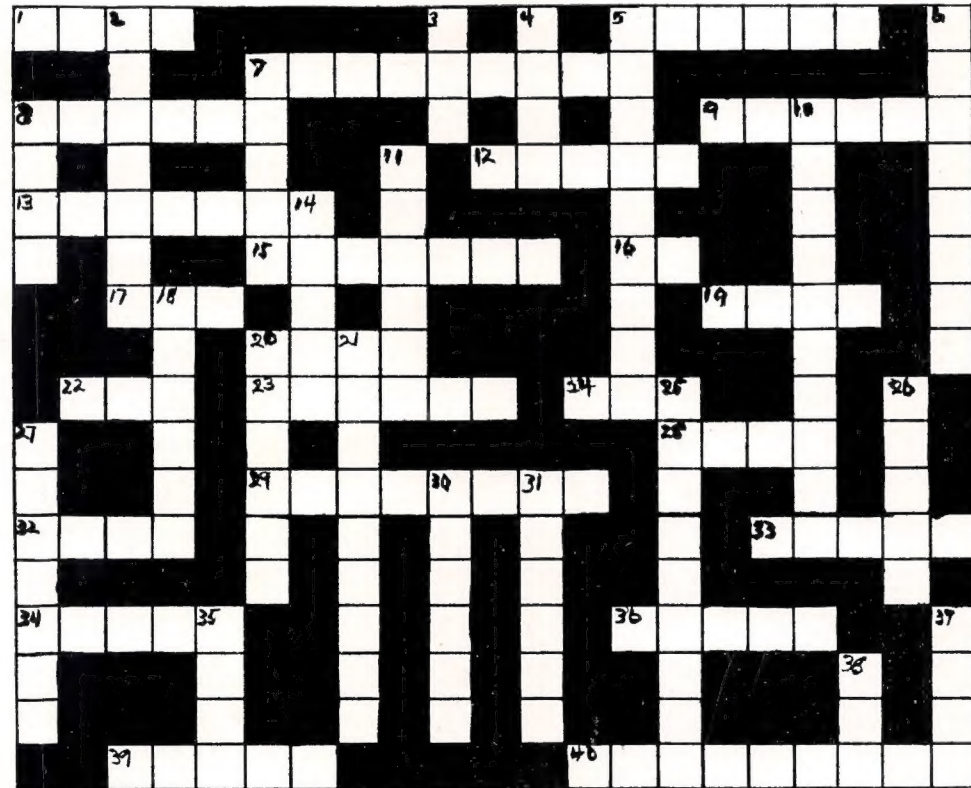

How about a somersault for good measure? They seem to know their kolos, "them" square dancers.
